

---

Subject: sa-learn in Windows XP

Posted by davidk67 on Mon, 18 Oct 2004 03:10:04 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Hello,

I am attempting to run the sa-learn program under Windows XP environment and using Outlook as my email client.

Let me preface this question by stating ahead of time that I am a casual user, not an IT professional, but I do learn very quickly.

I have several hundred emails in Outlook folders as recommended, but I am lost as to what type of file format to export them too to run with sa-learn. So far, my files have been exported to .pst format. I have a feeling that it is incorrect.

I am also not very comfortable using command line or batch files.

I have read the user guides and some of the html help files, but they are written at an IT level higher than this casual user.

What steps do I need to do EXACTLY to be able to train my filter, or should I just uninstall this and go with another mass-marketed spam filter program?

Thank you for any assistance or advice,

David

---