

---

Subject: XBL

Posted by JD Robbins on Wed, 11 May 2005 05:39:50 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Does nospamtoday use the XBL by dropping the smtp connection when it realizes the sender's IP is in the XBL?

This would save alot of mail processing from known spam gangs. Instead of accepting all email and processing it based on SA, filters etc... , spamassassin would simply drop the connection.

More info on the XBL is here:

<http://www.spamhaus.org/xbl/index.lasso>

Please advise.

J