

---

Subject: New Feature Request - RDNS

Posted by blay on Thu, 29 Jul 2004 20:16:51 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

This is a great product. It would be the best, though, if it could do Reverse DNS lookups on the source address of the sending SMTP server to see if it comes from a legitimate domain or not. This would eliminate much of the SPAM without having to check RBLs.

-B

---

---

Subject: Re: New Feature Request - RDNS

Posted by support on Tue, 03 Aug 2004 09:34:10 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

blay wrote:

> This is a great product. It would be the best, though, if it > could do Reverse DNS lookups on the source address of the > sending SMTP server to see if it comes from a legitimate domain > or not. This would eliminate much of the SPAM without having to > check RBLs.

This would eliminate some of your legitimate mail as well. It is not too hard to implement, so I put it on the wishlist.

---