

---

Subject: Score not in header

Posted by slohman on Tue, 07 Dec 2004 05:56:48 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

New to this version of SpamAssassin. Seems like the filters are running however no mention of score shows in the header. Does this not occur until the the learning process has completed ?

Thanks

SL

---

---

Subject: Re: Score not in header

Posted by support on Tue, 07 Dec 2004 13:38:22 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

In the default configuration shipped with the installer, SpamAssassin will always set the X-Spam headers in all the mails it has seen.

The spam check is only skipped if the mail is too large, or if some other filter (like a virus filter) has already deleted the mail.

NoSpamToday! also logs the score if extended logging is enabled. If the score can be seen in the log, the X-Spam-Status header is present.

---