Does NoSpamToday prevent harvest attacks?

If not, I think it's an essential part of an anti-spam product. Postini prevents directory harvest attacks. NEMX Power tools for Exchange prevent directory harvest attacks (http://www.nemx.com/products/powertools/howto/DirectoryHarvestAttack.asp).

Is there a way SpamAssassin or NoSpamToday can do what NEMX can? I looked but couldn't find a way.

Any decent mail server has some facility to do this. However, for those people without decent mail servers, we plan to include this feature in one of the next versions.
