Do you think it would be difficult to add a facility to monitor the SPAM proxy live, rather than waiting till the end of the day to see what's already happened?

Just an idea. I know we can do this currently to track mails point-to-point on our mail server, and it would be a great feature to add to the SPAM proxy.

Cheers

Yes, the 2.0 version will offer improved monitoring abilities.

We will have an announcement regarding NoSpamToday! 2.0 ready next week, including a list of new features, proposed release and beta test dates, and licensing information.
