Is there a way to configure a blacklisting service on the no spam today product that will update automatically?

SpamAssassin already uses blacklists like

<http://www.mail-abuse.org/rbl/>,

<http://www.mail-abuse.org/dul/>,

<http://www.mail-abuse.org/rss/> and

<http://www.mail-abuse.org/nml/>

by default (see http://spamassassin.apache.org/tests\_3\_0\_x.html

for a complete list of tests), so there should be no need for additional blacklists.
