Is there any way to change the editor that's used when I click the "View Log File With Editor" button? I'd prefer the log come up in Textpad rather than Notepad. Thanks...

Associate *.log files with textpad, you can do this either in the Windows Explorer, or in textpad's config dialog.

I did that - it still launches in Notepad. If I double-click the file nospamtoday.log, it does launch in Textpad. But, the "View Log File With Editor" button in the app launches it with Notepad every time. Oh well - I'll just run from the explorer. A minor nuisance that I can tolerate. Thanks anyway!
