I am trialling the server edition in pop proxy mode and have tried adding a whitelist which has built up over years and is around 42kb in size and one address per line

this gets truncated probably around three quarters of the way through

I tried putting more than one address per line but after I got bored it still truncated although apparently a bit further down is there any way to increase this limit or would it be valid to add a second whitelist filter and put half the list in each?
